

Take Your First Step– © 2015 Kaufman & Perri

It might take a leap of faith to dive in with both feet
Mind over matter, whatever it takes to make it through the day
I can help you find some peace, when you climb that mountain
Arm around your shoulder as you pick your way up over that lonely trail

Take your first step down that road
Take your first step down that road
One foot then the other, till it stops to feel like such a load
I said one foot then the other, till it stops to feel like such a load

Don't ask me who I am, I'm just a fella traveler
Tiptoes on the big book peekin' my way up over the heads in the crowd
Don't look outside for love, it might be a big step backwards
Say your one prayer over and keep on walking forward into the light

CHORUS TO BRIDGE:

You can do the same for me; you can do the same for me
Arm around my shoulder as I walk my own path to be free
Arm around my shoulder as I walk my own path to be free

LEAD; ½ VERSE

It might take a leap of faith to dive in with both feet

CHORUS, TAG:

Till it stops to feel, like such a load
